

It is a cold dreary day in the forest. Benny, Boots, and Isa are trying their best to hide me and keep me safe from the hunters. Please don't eat me!!

My mommy and daddy just brought home my brand new baby twin brother and sister. I sure do love them and I can't wait to read to them and teach them everything I know!

Also, I need to be able to stop Swiper from swiping everything. We all know how much he loves to take things from people. I am the only person who can stop him!!

Finally, the last reason I think you should not eat me is because I have a huge family vacation planned with Diego. We are going to Disney world and I am so excited to see the Animal Kingdom with Diego!!

In my opinion these are the reasons you should not eat me for Thanksgiving! I know Boots will really appreciate you eating ham instead!
